None too early have steps been taken by Secretary Hoover of the department of commerce in getting an agreement among the coal operators concerning the administration's plan for the control of the coal cutput. Under present conditions, when production is not what it should be, it is realized that expenses in connection with coal production are illable to be quite a little higher than under normal conditions. This has been allowed for by Mr. Hoover in the fixing of coal prices at the mine. The prices are higher than those at the time when the saring to which they could ease. "And last winter when Dickey had the reductions of the said, your for he is a personal friend and he and all turned to me children was at to whether all the children belong to me or only part of them.
